BAMFIELD MARINE SCIENCES CENTRE

The Bamfield Marine Sciences Centre (BMSC) is a not-for-profit, registered Canadian charity, and a shared campus of the University of Victoria, the University of British Columbia, the University of Alberta, the University of Calgary, and Simon Fraser University. With 3000 sq m of modern laboratory space and a fleet of research vessels, BMSC provides access to a remarkable diversity of marine, terrestrial, freshwater, and cultural sites of the North East Pacific basin. Visit bamfieldmsc.com for more information.

BAMFIELD COAST GUARD STATION

Bamfield Lifeboat Station was built in 1908, in conjunction with the West Coast Lifesaving Trail, which ran from Bamfield to Port Renfrew. Since that time, Bamfield Lifeboat Station has been home to several different classes of lifeboat. The National School for Rigid Hull Inflatable Operator Training has shared the facilities at Bamfield Station since about 1984. In 2014, it was completely renovated, preparing it for another hundred years of service. Public tours are available based on availability.

HUU-AY-AHT FIRST NATIONS

Huu-ay-aht First Nations is a self-governing, modern treaty Nation whose lands are located in the Barkley Sound region on the west coast of Vancouver Island, at the entrance to Alberni Inlet. The lands and waters making up their traditional territories have been occupied since time immemorial. Today, Huu-ay-aht citizens number 862, and approximately 135 reside in and around the village of Anacla - the Nation's principal community close to Bamfield. Tours of their 19th-century village, Kixin, now a dedicated National Historic Site, are available during summer months by reservation. Visit their website for details and bookings: huuayah.org
